

MASTER IN INTEGRATIVE LEADERSHIP

A customized master's degree featuring stackable certificates

Design your graduate education by selecting two complementary graduate certificates to create a Master in Integrative Leadership. Showcase your expertise by completing two additional courses – six credit hours – that fuse your new knowledge in the design and execution of a high impact project. This interdisciplinary approach recognizes the multifaceted nature of leading initiatives, teams and organizations.

BUSINESS VENTURES
LEADERSHIP

DIVERSITY, EQUITY AND INCLUSION LEADERSHIP

NONPROFIT
LEADERSHIP

PUBLIC SAFETY
LEADERSHIP

INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGN AND TECHNOLOGY

DATA
LEADERSHIP

There are more than a dozen combinations to build a degree.
Let us help you imagine the possibilities.

How can this degree help you advance your interests? Here's an example of how it could work:

Interest area one

Your professional aspiration involves furthering the aims and goals of diversity, equity and inclusion in the organization you serve, as well as the community at large. Earn a certificate in DEI leadership to help develop your personal insights and professional skills to accomplish those objectives in the real world.

Interest area two

You have a passion for advancing the mission of a nonprofit organization. Earn the Nonprofit Leadership Certificate to strengthen your knowledge of stakeholder perspectives and mission-centric operations.

Connect the two certificates by completing a project that integrates your knowledge of the principles of diversity, equity and inclusion with nonprofit programming and outreach. You can enhance your credentials while addressing an important community issue.

Certificate details

- Coursework is 100% online
- GRE not required
- Each graduate certificate is 12 credit hours
- Certificate courses are eight-week sessions, starting in the fall and ending in the spring, making it possible to complete a four-course certificate in two semesters
- Project-focused connector courses – MILE 600 and MILE 700 – are scheduled in consultation with your advisor
- Certificates appear on your graduate transcript as they are completed
- A limited number of transfer credits may be eligible for degree requirements
- GMAT required for the Business Ventures Leadership certificate only. Test and fee waivers available to qualified students

Funding your studies

- Affordable payment plans available through Drury
- Federal financial aid eligible via FAFSA. Apply for financial aid at drury.edu/financial-aid
- Competitive graduate assistantships provide tuition remission and stipend
- Consult your employer for tuition reimbursement opportunities

HIGHER LEARNING COMMISSION

For more information, contact:

Dr. Alex Cobb, program director
Drury Leadership Collaborative
(417) 873-7516 or acobb003@drury.edu

drury.edu/mil

