Take advantage of your voluntary dental plan

The value of dental benefits

Even if you're generally healthy with few or no cavities, it pays to have a dental plan. Here's why:

Significantly discounted rates

Your employer negotiated with Delta Dental to provide significantly discounted rates. But in addition to lower premiums, Delta Dental negotiates further discounts with dentists. Because we provide dental coverage to millions of subscribers, we negotiate discounted rates with dentists on your behalf. It's like buying on wholesale versus a retail basis. You could save as much as 30% off* of your dentist's ordinary charges.

Small concerns and unexpected dental work are covered

Visiting the dentist regularly means oral health issues will be addressed before they become severe. Taking advantage of low-cost exams and cleanings can help you save money (and hassle) on more extensive work down the road. Also, if you need dental work you weren't planning on - for example, to repair a chipped tooth - a dental plan helps defray that cost.

See how much benefits can save you on dental care costs.

In these examples, each person in a family of four makes two preventive visits and has a cavity filled over the course of a year. Compare the costs for a family without insurance to those who have it:

Family of four without dental benefits

Annual premium.....	$0
Preventive visits.....	$1,400
Fillings.....	$800
Total cost.....	$2,200

Family of four with dental benefits

Annual premium.....	$1,200
Preventive visits.....	$0
Fillings.....	$200
Total cost.....	$1,400
Total savings.....	$800

Take advantage of this negotiated benefit by your employer to enjoy significantly discounted rates for dental benefits.
